

God is...

You touch the deepest reaches of my soul, know the deepest desires of my heart, and provide even the smallest of my needs

Teach me how to love as you love me, teach me to reach out in love and not be afraid

Your perfect love sustains me, conquers all, provides all needs, nourishes hunger, gives eternal life, and brings light and happiness to the deepest and darkest corners of my life

Faith in you brings light where there is darkness and joy where there is sorrow

Your faith gives me strength when I am weak, nourishes me when I am hungry, and supports me when I have fallen

Your love gives me the strength and courage to live when I had given up

You show me the inner beauty and trueness of someone's heart when the world only shows the superficial façade

You have given me hope that there will be a life partner for me to love on earth when I had thought there would never be

You planned and knew my life even before I was born. Before I could even think, you sacrificed yourself for my sins.
